Sixth Annual Toilet Paper Wedding Dress Contest Winner

Sixth Annual Contest Flushed with Talent!

Galit Zeierman of Ramat Gan, Israel takes home the $1000 grand prize!

(Boca Raton, FL) Cheap-Chic-Weddings.com announced the winner of their sixth annual Toilet Paper Wedding Dress contest today. Toilet paper dress entries from around the world were received and final judging took place today in Boca Raton, FL.

Grand prize winner Galit Zeierman entered a flirty, fresh, fun short dress that features a whimsical bird on the shoulder and headpiece.

This year's second place winner is Ericka Andrade of Winnetka, California and third place goes to Bailie Bickford of Carlsbad, California. Ericka wins $500 for her design and Bailie wins $250 for her entry.

Laura Gawne and partners Susan Bain and Roxie Radford, who operate the website on saving money on weddings, base the contest on the popular bridal shower game. Cheap-Chic-Weddings.com asked their readers to create wedding gowns using toilet paper, tape and/or glue. This year, entrants were allowed to sew as well.

“Judging this year's entries was tough.” Said Laura Gawne. Roxie Radford added, “We had so many fantastic dresses to choose from!” Cheap Chic Weddings welcomed Jack Jones of Boca Raton Bridal as celebrity judge for this year's contest.
